

Prof. Dr. Bhavani Shankar Kodali – Baltimore (USA)

Department of Anesthesiology, University of Maryland Medical Center

Professor of Anesthesiology

University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Chief of Obstetric Anesthesiology, UMMC

Assistant Director of MOCA Simulation Center

Chief Safety Officer, Department of Anesthesiology

Dr Bhavani Shankar Kodali is the Staff Anesthesiologist is Chief of obstetric Anesthesiology at University of Maryland Medical Center, and Professor at University of Maryland. He has a wide variety of research interests including, but not limited to, capnography, physiology of pregnancy, airway changes during labor, laparoscopy during pregnancy, coagulation and blood transfusion, hemodynamic changes during cesarean delivery, and operating room efficiency. Dr. Kodali has over 140 peer reviewed and invited publications on these subjects. He is a reviewer for 16 anesthesia, physiology and surgery journals. He has given over 300 lectures in several countries.

Dr. Kodali is a world expert on capnography and maintains an educational website (www.capnography.com). The site attracts 1500 visitors per day and has been designated as the 'dynamic book on capnography' by the Journal 'Anesthesiology'. This is a free site for all care providers around the world.